Metra PR-S1PI Big Dog 1 Outlet Smart Power Distribution Unit. This single intelligent power outlet supplements the Metra Big Dog PR-R13PI and the PR-V7PI in the management and protection of large, multi-zone systems. It has no surge protection built in, but it offers convenient remote app control for a connected device like a router or other network gear. The PR-S1PI connects to your network via Wi-Fi. That lets you use Metra's MAVbase web and mobile app for remote monitoring and control of the outlet. IP automation integration is included for third-party control systems, including Control4 and Crestron. Easy plug-in wall mounting allows you to fit the PR-S1PI just about anywhere. The 360° continuously rotating plug is convenient for connecting gear that's located in a tight spot. "Self-healing" functions for network-connected equipment automatically reset power going to the outlet. Installers save time by monitoring remotely and adjusting settings as problems arise, lessening the chance of service calls.
